Kindergarten Kids

This week: September 7-10, 2010

Since you will get this letter after Back-to-School night, let me thank those of you who were able to attend! If I didn't see you there, you may have the handout so you can access the information. As always, if more questions occur, please e-mail me at school.

Since you see that we have a pretty full schedule, I'm sure you agree that doctor and dentist appointments would be best after school and on school vacation days. We learn so much in one day!

Our first field trip is coming up! On Oct. 7, a Thursday, we plan to go to Clayton Valley Pumpkin Farm in Clayton. You will be giving permission on RenWeb and paying through the office this year. If you are unsure about RenWeb, please call the office or stop by.

We have our first Scholastic book order to review in the folder! There is a letter with it to explain how to proceed with the order. This goes to the classroom teacher. The books are very reasonably priced and the children love to receive an order.

Many of you have your child's picture in the folder. If you were not here when pictures were taken, make-up picture day is Sept. 28.

The Harvest Festival is Oct. 16! A sign-up sheet will go home soon and you can sign up to work in a spot that is convenient for your family. Our booth has traditionally been "Go Fish."

Kindergarten Academics:

Bible: The story of creation is a wonderful one! Amazing how God created everything! Unfortunately, we also need to teach the story of the fall and how sin came into the world. We concluded the week with a "Creation" movie that the children loved.

Reading: We finished our first letterbook! The next letter is "O". To reinforce the letter, starting next week, please have your child bring a "show and tell" item to school that starts with the letter of the week.

Math: We are sorting shapes, colors, and sizes.

Social Studies: Helping at home and school, needs and wants, and working together.
